

Nanoteqa

UK's leading chemical company

About US

Nanoteqa is the UK's leading chemical company, producing exceptional cleaning products and detergents for a wide range of applications.

We specialise in the wholesale and retail sale of innovative, nanotechnology-enhanced products that can be used in everyday life. We adhere to the strictest quality standards and guarantee the best offer on the market.

Our products are designed with one purpose in mind: to satisfy the needs of our most demanding customers.

Our range includes:

- Automotive and construction chemicals
- Household chemicals and detergents
- Hydrophobic coatings for moisture protection
- Commercial industry and many other profiles.

Revolutionising Cleaning with Nanotechnology

We have successfully developed an innovative formula based on the highest level of chemical compounds. The unique properties of that formula achieve perfect results, even in the most difficult cases.

Nanotechnology is a new stage of development used in places where products with a classic structure are no longer effective. We combine meticulous British craftsmanship with stringent environmental standards, offering affordable, high-quality, and concentrated organic detergents for unparalleled cleaning power.

This is real know-how in the world of cleanliness and disinfection. Disinfectants and cleaners for rooms and any other surfaces will help you get rid of viruses, fungi, bacteria and dirt with ease.

A unique composition of nanoparticles, which will not only remove the current dirt and prevent the appearance of re-appearance, but also make a complete disinfection.

ECO

Our products are made with one goal in mind: our consumers' health and well-being. Our liquids are free of: aggressive acids, alkalis, chlorine and other substances that can cause allergic reactions and other irritations. Using our detergents to clean rooms with small children and animals is absolutely safe.

Of course, the point is the uniqueness of nanotechnology: the content of incredibly small silver particles in the composition. This unique nano-formulation of high-tech and, most importantly, safe components has made our household detergents the most practical to date.

Different Contamination

Proper surface cleaning effectively removes all types of dirt. Our advanced formula tackles just that:

- ✦ streaks
- ✦ grease
- ✦ dust
- ✦ lime scale
- ✦ rust
- ✦ even foul odours

With just a quick polish with microfibere, your surfaces are left sparkling and colour-rich.
